

MONSTER SLAUGHTER

SCENARIOS

A night scene in a forest. A large, bright full moon hangs in the dark sky, casting a soft glow. In the center, a small, rustic house with a thatched roof is visible. The windows of the house are lit from within, showing a warm orange glow. The house is surrounded by dark, silhouetted trees. The overall atmosphere is mysterious and slightly eerie.

What you have here between your claws is the Monster Slaughter scenario booklet. We recommend that you play these scenarios only after you've played the game a few times using the normal rules. We also invite you to play these scenarios in order, as the first are the easiest to play and contain fewer changes to the normal rules. And if you like, scenarios 9 and 10 can be played together back-to-back. The Special Rules in the scenarios always take precedence over the normal rules of Monster Slaughter.

ASSAULT

TRAILER

What better holiday fun than a lonely cabin deep in the woods, five students partying it up, and a huge fire in the chimney? For a monster or serial killer, that is. You know what I mean! Nothing like the classics for those special occasions! Herb stuffing and pecan pie are nowhere near as tasty as terrified students. And they should be right on the edge after hearing the news alert on the radio in the kitchen:

"... I repeat (static)... Suspicious activities have been reported near Howling Wood. Several witnesses say they've seen worrying (static)... cattle have been attacked, people are going missing... The local authorities are recommending everyone stay inside and barricade their doors until further notice..."

SET-UP

We recommend casting the 5 Students (Bob, Britney, Kam, Laika, and Tom) as the Party Guests for this first scenario.

The Students have barricaded the doors. They are all revealed at the start of the game, and gathered in the living room.

To play this scenario, remove the Barricades card from the Nocturnal Event draw pile.

Replace the 4 Doors leading to the outside with Barricades.

Finally, give each of the Students 1 of the Neutral Objects at random.

Place these 5 Neutral Object cards around the board face up under each Student Character card so that the number of dice provided by the Object is visible.

The rest of the game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

SPECIAL RULES

When each Student is Attacked for the first time, they automatically defend themselves with the Neutral Object card they were given during set-up. This card is then discarded, like in the normal rules.

After being attacked for the first time, each Student immediately flees to an adjacent room and hides. The player whose Monster Attacked decides which room the Student flees to. Then, as in the normal rules, shuffle the Character card into the draw pile for the room in which they are hiding.

TEAMWORK

This rule applies once all the Students have left the living room and remains in effect until the end of the game.

At the end of each player's turn, if 2 Students are together in the same room and not hiding, they automatically replace one Door (or open doorway) with a Barricade if at least one Barricade is available.

If the room has more than one Door, the Door that gets barricaded is the one leading to another room in the Cabin. In the event of a disagreement, the active player decides.

END OF THE GAME

The end of the game is the same as in the normal rules.

INFERNO ON HELLM STREET

TRAILER

"This cabin is out to get us." That's what Mrs. Werran told her husband after their first night at 1428 Hellm Street. On the second night, their two daughters screamed at the same time: Someone – or something – grabbed their feet while they were in bed. The third night, the family heard knocking on the walls, even though the cabin was isolated. And then, on the fourth, fifth and sixth nights, framed photographs flew across the rooms, children were heard laughing in the basement, and the walls began to bleed... So, Mrs. Werran bundled her family into their car and set the house on fire on the seventh night. Up until then, it had been a good week – at least for the monsters who had been having fun terrifying them!

SET-UP

Prepare the 2 Inferno markers .

Right before playing the first Nocturnal Event card, place an Inferno marker  in the kitchen.

We recommend placing 1 of these 2 markers on top of the Nocturnal Event draw pile during set-up so that you don't forget this rule.

The rest of the game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

SPECIAL RULES

THE CABIN'S ON FIRE!

Afraid of Fire: Any Monster that wants to enter a room on fire must perform a bravery test. This test is not an Action and can only be performed once per turn. Roll as many dice as indicated on the corresponding Monster card. Fathers and Children need to roll 2 Successes to enter a room containing an Inferno marker ; Mothers only need to roll 1 Success.

Important: A bravery test must be performed even if a Monster uses the Teleportation Bonus Action or walks through walls.

At the end of each round, and in this order:

- Each Victim located in a room containing an Inferno marker  immediately loses 1 Health Point. No Flesh tokens  are awarded for these wounds.
- Each Monster in the room loses 1 Flesh token  if it has any. The token is returned to the reserve.

Spreading Fire: Roll 1 Action die; if a Failure is rolled, the fire spreads! Place an Inferno marker  in the adjacent room, moving clockwise (kitchen > living room > bathroom > WC > bedroom).

No more than 2 rooms can be on fire at once. If the fire must spread but no Inferno markers  are available, remove the oldest marker and place it in the new room.

END OF THE GAME

The end of the game is the same as in the normal rules.

CHRISTA

TRAILER

The days when her owner, madly in love with her blood red paint job, called her "Mary Christine" are long gone. At the time, she was a real head-turner! Today, she's nothing more than an old wreck of a car on which the neighbors' dogs – and sometimes even a few drunk students – relieve themselves. And tonight, they've added insult to injury! They're using her like a vulgar generator... She used to fly down the highways, and now she's just a lamp! Unbearable! With her old bite back, and in full possession of her demonic powers, Christa's out for revenge! After a diabolic rev of the engine, the car stalls, plunging those poor fools into complete darkness and putting them at the mercy of every danger...

SET-UP

Put the Car marker on one of the 4 exterior zones around the Cabin so that the side with the headlights off is facing up.

Build a draw pile of 8 Nocturnal Event cards, then take the Knock Knock Nocturnal Event card and slip it in with the top 2 cards of the Nocturnal Event draw pile. You will now have a draw pile containing 9 Nocturnal Events with the Knock Knock Nocturnal Event card in first, second, or third position.

The rest of the game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

8 Nocturnal Event cards

1 Knock Knock Nocturnal Event card

SPECIAL RULES

Before playing the first round, draw 1 Nocturnal Event card and play the card as described in the normal rules.

ENGINE STALL

Before drawing a Nocturnal Event card at the start of the 4 a.m. and 7 a.m. rounds, and only if the Car marker has the side showing the headlights on facing up, the car engine stalls. This triggers a "Power Outage".

POWER OUTAGE

When the Cabin is plunged into darkness, turn the Car marker over to show the headlights off. The Victims may use Object cards but their Special Abilities do not count! In addition, Victims may be Scared, but they cannot hide.

When the Knock Knock Nocturnal Event card is drawn, apply the "Lights On" rule.

LIGHTS ON

The first time the Knock Knock Nocturnal Event card is drawn, a Surprise Visitor is chosen randomly and enters the game to attempt to fix the car. They take cover in the car (place their Character card next to the Car marker) and attempt to re-start the engine in order to provide the Cabin with electricity.

To do so, the first player rolls as many dice as there are Health Points on the Visitor's Character card, and must roll 3 Successes to restart the engine. If the attempt is successful, turn over the Car marker so that the side showing the headlights on is visible. The electricity is back on. If the attempt fails, the Surprise Visitor can try again once per round before each Nocturnal Event card is drawn.

In addition, if the engine restarts, the Surprise Visitor slips away. Set aside the mini, then put the Knock Knock Nocturnal Event card back by shuffling it in with the top 2 cards of the Nocturnal Event draw pile. Repeat the procedure the next time the card is drawn, as appropriate.

Notes:

- You will therefore keep the same Surprise Visitor throughout the game.
- In this scenario, the Surprise Visitor is off limits: The Monsters may not interact with the Visitor.

END OF THE GAME

The end of the game is the same as in the normal rules.

WHO'S AFRAID OF THE BIG BAD WOOD?

TRAILER

When night falls, the forest changes: Bright colors are replaced by the darkest dark, and bird song gives way to an eerie silence, sometimes broken by supernatural cries or the most harrowing rustling. Each tree, each bush becomes a potential hiding spot for a creature that might at any moment pounce on whoever comes strolling by! Go ahead... hide. Make the pleasure last. The more terrified your prey, the more tasty your meal!

SET-UP

Place 2 Forest markers  face down on each outdoor zone of the game board. The rest of the game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

SPECIAL RULES

NEW ACTION: EXPLORE THE FOREST

Once per turn, players may explore the woods around the Cabin. To do so, they must be in an outdoor zone around the Cabin. The player rolls only 1 Action die  for their Monster. If a Success is rolled, the player takes a Forest marker  and keeps it face down in front of them.

USE 1 FOREST MARKER

During their turns, the players may decide to use one or more Forest markers . To do so, they reveal the markers, apply their effect, and then discard them. This does not count as an Action. The list of effects is given below.

Animal Skull
2 POINTS

Animal Skull
3 POINTS

Animal Skull
4 POINTS

Shovel
Secretly recover 1 card of your choice from the discard pile.

Crystal Ball
Look at the next 3 Nocturnal Event cards and then return them to the draw pile in the order of your choice.

Carcass
Perform an additional Action.

Hooch
Move any character (Victim or Monster) to the room of your choice.

Grave
Swap 2 of your Victim markers. One of these markers must be either your Favorite Meal or a dead Guest.

END OF THE GAME

In addition to the regular Reckoning, the players reveal their Forest markers, some of which (the Animal Skulls) provide additional points.

GLYPHS IN THE NIGHT

TRAILER

It is eight minutes after midnight and you hear a dull thud in the next room. Funny. A mere 18 years ago in this very cabin, the massacre of an entire family started at exactly the same time, to the minute. Yes. Funny! Rumors also say that exactly nine years later, an entire group of students disappeared – except for a young, traumatized girl who wouldn't stop repeating: "The glyphs saved me... The glyphs killed them... The glyphs saved me... The glyphs killed..."

SET-UP

Place 1 Glyph marker  in each room as indicated below:

The rest of the game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

SPECIAL RULES

TRIGGERING GLYPHS

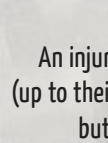

At the end of their turns, players may decide to trigger the effect of the Glyph marker located in the same room as their active Monster. The marker remains in place for the following turns.

Glyph Effects

WC (the perfect place to concentrate):

The active player swaps 2 of the markers in their Death Order, but may not move their Favorite Meal marker or any marker representing a dead Guest.

Bathroom (that medicine cabinet sure comes in handy):

An injured Victim of the active player's choice recovers 1 Health Point (up to their initial amount). This glyph may be used only once per turn, but may be used to heal the same Victim during different turns.

Bedroom (hmm... boards and nails hidden in the closet):

The active player moves 1 Door from one doorway to another.

Living room (from here, you can see into every corner of the Cabin):

The active player looks at the top card on the draw pile of their choice or one of another player's Victim markers.

Kitchen (let's see what's in the trash):

The active player secretly recovers one card of their choice from the discard pile.

END OF THE GAME

The end of the game is the same as in the normal rules.

Alternative: You may choose to place the Glyph markers in the Cabin randomly.

MONSTER GANGS

TRAILER

Hunters and gangsters have a lot in common. Most notably, their territorial tendencies. Murder? Crime? Yes! But some lines are not to be crossed! Cross those lines, and your life won't be worth a red cent... Thus, when a monster family is on its hunting grounds, it's best not to be caught hunting on their turf, otherwise you might end up being dinner!

SET-UP

Game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

SPECIAL RULES

NEW ACTION: ATTACK ANOTHER MONSTER

During their turns, players may decide to attack a Monster from another family that is in the same zone as their active Monster. Both players roll the number of dice corresponding to their Monster (plus 1 additional die for each Monster from the same family present in the zone) and compare the number of Successes.

The attacker rolled
MORE Successes

The attacker randomly takes from the attacked player's hand as many cards as they rolled Successes MINUS the defender's Successes.

Tie

Nothing happens.

The defender rolled
MORE Successes

The active Monster's turn is over.

The 7-card hand limit applies by default. If the Attack is successful, the Monster stealing cards stops when their hand reaches 7 cards.

ALWAYS STRONGER

If a Monster Attacks another Monster and must roll more than 5 Action dice, they roll the dice several times and add up all their Successes.

END OF THE GAME

During the Reckoning, in addition to the points earned from tokens and Doors, each player earns 1 point for each unused card in their hand plus 1 additional point for each Object card linked to their family.

BLOOD MOON PROWL

TRAILER

Some monsters wake up after years in hibernation. When they do, radio and televisions around the world report the carnage. But sometimes, the year has an extra – a 13th – full moon, and this same moon can seem larger and be in alignment with the Earth and the Sun. This "super blue blood moon" wakes up all hibernating monsters at once. Famished for flesh and thirsty for violence, they are ready to devour each other to get at their prey. For one night, it's hell on earth!

SET-UP

Put the indicated number of Flesh tokens  on each Monster (you may use the triple Flesh tokens  worth 3 Flesh tokens that come with this scenario).

Put the Blood Moon  marker on 2:00 a.m.

The rest of the game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

SPECIAL RULES

The following 2 Special Rules continue to apply (See Scenario 6: Monster Gangs).

NEW ACTION: ATTACK ANOTHER MONSTER

Careful! This action is only possible once the Full Moon marker  has reached the Blood Moon marker .

During their turns, players may decide to attack a Monster from another family that is in the same zone as their active Monster. Both players roll the number of dice corresponding to their Monster (plus 1 additional die for each additional Monster from the same family present in the zone). The outcome of this action is not the same as in the previous scenario.

The attacker rolled MORE Successes

The attacker takes a Flesh token from the defender's card and puts it in front of them.

Tie

Nothing happens.

The defender rolled MORE Successes

The defender takes a Flesh token from the attacker's card.

ALWAYS STRONGER

If a player attacks another Monster and must roll more than 5 Action dice, they roll the dice several times and add up all their Successes.

THE VICTIMS FIGHT BACK

When a player's attack on a Victim fails, they put 1 of the Flesh tokens  on their active Monster's card back in the reserve.

MONSTER DEATHS

If a Monster no longer has any Flesh tokens  on its card, it dies. No one gets a Bone token . Put the card and miniature back in the box. Any Monsters in the family that are still alive get 1 additional action to use whenever they are played.

ACTIVATING MONSTERS

When you activate a Monster, rotate its card sideways instead of turning it over. That way, its Flesh tokens  will stay in place.

END OF THE GAME

If only Monsters from one family are still alive, the game ends and the player playing that family wins.

Add any Flesh tokens remaining on your Monster cards to your harvest, then add up your points in the Reckoning according to the normal rules. Players who do not have any Monsters left alive do not count their points.

REANIMATOR

TRAILER

It's pouring rain. A flash of lightning cuts through the darkness and a loud crash of thunder resounds in the night. Through the window of an improvised laboratory, you see the professor you are planning to eat for dessert. He's jubilating. He's just managed to reanimate his gerbil a full 47 minutes after it died of a heart attack thanks to a green phosphorescent potion. In his happy dance, the fool knocks over the flask and it shatters on the floor. The mixture becomes a greenish cloud... that comes to life and floats out the window toward you! The emerald cloud envelops the corpse of a student at your feet then floats away. With a repugnant gurgle, the dead student rises, drools, and reaches out to you...

SET-UP

Put the indicated number of Flesh tokens  on each Monster card (you may use the triple Flesh tokens  worth 3 Flesh tokens that come with this scenario).

The rest of the game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

SPECIAL RULES

REANIMATING VICTIMS

After all the effects triggered by the death of a Victim have been applied, the character comes back to life.

REANIMATED VICTIMS

When a Victim is reanimated, place their miniature on a Reanimated marker  in the room where they died. Reanimated characters do not have Health Points, and never hide. When Reanimated characters are attacked, they only defend themselves if a player plays 1 Object card to defend them. Determine the outcome as follows:

The attacker rolled
MORE Successes

The attacker rolls 1 Action die for their Monster. If they roll a Success, the Reanimated character is definitively dead (set it aside); and the attacker earns 1 Brain token for being smart. If they roll a Failure, nothing happens.

Tie

Nothing happens.

The defender rolled
MORE Successes

The attacker puts 1 of the Flesh tokens on their Monster's card back in the reserve.

ATTACK OF THE REANIMATED

Every time the Full Moon marker  is moved, the reanimated characters attack! For each reanimated character in the same room as Monsters, the players put one of the Flesh tokens  located on each of those Monster cards back in the reserve.

ALWAYS MORE SURPRISES

When you draw the Knock Knock Nocturnal Event card telling you to add 1 Surprise Visitor, do so normally but then shuffle the card back into the Nocturnal Event draw pile instead of discarding it.

END OF THE GAME

If the Full Moon marker reaches 8:00 a.m. or only Monsters from one family are left alive, the game ends. Add any Flesh tokens remaining on your Monsters to your harvest, and then add up your points in the Reckoning according to the normal rules. Players without any living Monsters count their points posthumously and may win the game.

THE BREAKBEAST CLUB

TRAILER

The superstars of fantasy and horror – aka the Breakbeast Club – regularly get together for the biggest, baddest breakfast of all! For the event, the host pulls out the very best china, and the victims are piled up in the cellar. But be careful! The kitchen is strictly off limits: The cook is preparing a beast of a feast. While the guests get to be surprised by the chef's masterpiece when they sit down to eat, the cook never knows in advance who – or even how many – will be coming...

SET-UP

Choose only the Victim markers representing Students for this scenario, then remove 1 Student at random and set aside their Character card. The players will not play with this character, and therefore only receive 4 Victim markers to establish their Death Orders.

x2 Place a Barricade on each of the Kitchen doors. Do not place any cards in the Kitchen draw pile (6 cards therefore go into the discard pile).

Do not prepare the Nocturnal Event draw pile, and do not place the Full Moon marker on the Nocturnal Event draw pile.

The rest of the game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

SPECIAL RULES

FORBIDDEN KITCHEN

The kitchen is strictly off limits to everyone (Monsters and Victims alike) and no one may smash the kitchen doors.

END-OF-ROUND ARRIVALS

When all the players have played 1 Monster, draw 1 Surprise Visitor card at random. Place the Visitor in the kitchen. Then, read the paragraph corresponding to the arrival of this Visitor and immediately apply the corresponding effect.

IMPORTANT: Only read the paragraphs corresponding to the arrival of each Visitor when they enter the game, so you won't spoil the surprise!

First Visitor: The first member of the Breakbeast Club pulls out a chair and sits down at the table – first to arrive, as planned! There's still a lot to do before the party tonight. In turn, following the normal order of play; each player may look at the top card of the draw pile of their choice.

Second Visitor: The second to arrive couldn't care less for good manners. The excitement of the evening has won out over the last vestiges of politeness: feet on the table, chair tipped back, waiting for the party to start. In turn, following the normal order of play; each player draws 1 card from the top of the draw pile of their choice. If it's a Guest, the player reveals it. If it's a Trap, it is discarded and its effect is not applied.

Third Visitor: The third to arrive is the impatient sort, and already regretting getting there early. But not even having to wait for the last two can ruin the fun of an evening like this one. Each player can change their Death Order completely (including moving their Favorite Meal marker to another living Victim if their Favorite Meal has not yet been killed).

Fourth Visitor: The fourth attendee has traveled far to reach the Cabin, but it was well worth the effort. Seated at the table, it's a relief to have made it on time. No one ever likes arriving last. Each player passes the Mother from their Monster family to the player on their left. If she had already been played, she is available to be played again.

Fifth Visitor: The fifth attendee enters under the impatient stares of the others, unflappable and not in any rush to get settled. The last on the list, the one who would set off this epic evening, the master of ceremonies has arrived. The Breakbeast Club is all present and accounted for. The meal may begin. The master of ceremonies raises a glass solemnly, "A toast." Each player passes the Father from their Monster family to the player on their right. If he had already been played, he is available to be played again.

END OF THE GAME

After the fifth Visitor arrives, the players play one more round, and the game ends. The Reckoning is the same as in the normal rules (and the player with the most points wins).

IMPORTANT: If all the Guests die before the last Visitor arrives, read and immediately apply the effects described in all the remaining paragraphs.

But is the game really over? Now that everyone is here, it'd be a shame to miss out on the fun by not playing the next scenario.

If you want to play the next scenario – Turning the Tables – back-to-back after this one (and we strongly recommend you do), leave all the Visitors in the kitchen.

The players keep the Monster cards that are in front of them.

Read the start of Scenario No. 10.

TURNING THE TABLES

TRAILER

When the cook has finished clearing away the dishes, he usually brings the evening to a close with an elegant speech: "Let's go, you deranged superheroes! Snack time's over! Warm up the chainsaws, load your guns, sharpen your stakes and machetes, fuel up your flamethrowers, and get ready for the massacre of the century! The monsters won't keep. But they will have to wait a few more seconds while you toss back a shot of my grandfather's moonshine! It'll put a fire in your belly and get your engines roaring. Lift your glasses... All together now... Repeat after me: Break the beasts! (Everyone: "Break the beasts!"). Cheers, ladies and gents!"

CAREFUL! This scenario provides a cooperative game experience. The players can beat the game and win together, or lose together against the game.

SET-UP

If you've just played The Breakbeast Club, follow the instructions at the end of the scenario. Leave the Barricades over the Kitchen doors.

If not:

- Install Barricades over each doorway in the Kitchen.
- Draw 5 Surprise Visitor cards and place their miniatures in the kitchen.
- Put 6 Flesh tokens on each Surprise Visitor Character card.
- In turn, following the normal order of play, each player takes 1 Child, 1 Mother, and 1 Father, each from a different family.

In both cases:

- The players do not take any Victim markers.
- Do not place the Full Moon token or Nocturnal Event cards.
- Put the indicated number of Flesh tokens on each Monster card (you may use the triple Flesh tokens worth 3 Flesh tokens that come with this scenario).

The rest of the game set-up is the same as in the normal rules.

SPECIAL RULES

NEW EFFECTS: ATTACK A SURPRISE VISITOR

When they attack a Surprise Visitor, Monsters may discard 1 (and only 1) Object card to increase their number of dice. The active player rolls as many dice as their active Monster has Strength, plus the die from the possible, and the Surprise Visitor rolls as many dice as they have Strength (given in the section "Visitors' Strength and Abilities"). Compare the results and determine the outcome as follows:

The Monster rolled
MORE Successes

The player discards as many Flesh tokens from the Surprise Visitor's Character card as the difference between its Successes and the number of Successes rolled by the Surprise Visitor.

Tie

Nothing happens.

The Surprise Visitor rolled
MORE Successes

The Monster discards as many Flesh tokens from the Monster as the difference between the Monster's Successes and the number of Successes rolled by the Surprise Visitor.

ALWAYS STRONGER

If a Monster attacks a Surprise Visitor and must roll more than 5 dice, they roll the dice more than once.

ARMED AND READY

Players may discard any card as if it were an Object card, giving them 1 additional die.

END-OF-ROUND ATTACK

At the end of each round, all the Surprise Visitors attack every Monster present in their zones. For each Surprise Visitor, roll as many dice as they have Strength (given in the section "Visitors' Strength and Abilities"). Each time a Surprise Visitor rolls a Success, a player must take 1 Flesh token  from their Monster's card and return it to the reserve.

END-OF-ROUND STROLL

After the Attacks are over, roll 1 die for each Surprise Visitor. If a Success is rolled, that Surprise Visitor must move to an adjacent room. If more than one room is possible, the players decide together. The Surprise Visitors can go through doors, and never leave the Cabin.

FINDING STUDENTS

If a player draws a Student card (Bob, Britney, Kam, Laika, or Tom), the Student is revealed and placed in the room where they were found. Once revealed, Students may no longer hide.

UNEXPECTED HELP

At the end of each round, when the Surprise Visitors attack, the Students present in the room are injured instead of the Monsters.

BOTTOMLESS DRAW PILES

When all draw piles are empty, shuffle the discard pile and then put the cards back into each room's discard pile one by one to form new draw piles (the number of cards per room will be different than in the initial set-up).

SURPRISE VISITORS' STRENGTH AND ABILITIES

The Surprise Visitors' Strength depends on the number of players:

2 to 3 players: Strength = 4

4 to 5 players: Strength = 5

The Surprise Visitors each have an Ability, as described below.

These Abilities replace the Special Abilities listed in the normal rules.

GHOST HUNTER

Plasma Ray: He can attack an adjacent room as if he were in it (the players choose where he attacks, preferably in a room containing Monsters).

INDIANA

Faithful Friend: The other Surprise Visitors in the same room each gain +1 Strength.

DEMON HUNTER

Equipped: If an Attack against the Demon Hunter fails, the active player rolls 1 die. If it is successful, the Monster loses one additional Flesh token.

BULLWHIP WALTON

It Belongs in a Museum: If an Attack against Bullwhip Walton fails, the player discards one card of their choice from their hand.

PROF. BROWNE

He's Everywhere: The Prof. always goes on the end-of-round stroll.

ZIGMO

Too Cute: Zigmo can only be attacked if all the other Surprise Visitors are dead.

RED ANSOLL

Hunter: When he goes on an end-of-round stroll, he heads for the closest Monster.

SUMMER

Avenger: Summer gains +1 Strength for each dead Surprise Visitor.

SCULDER

A Good Pair: Sculder has +1 Strength if Mully is alive in the Cabin.

MULLY

A Good Pair: Mully has +1 Strength if Sculder is alive in the Cabin.

REPLAY

Clone: When Replay dies for the first time, she comes back to life with only 1 Flesh token.

OFFICER ROSCOE

Protector: When Roscoe is in a zone, he must be attacked first.

SELENA

Tenacious: Selena re-rolls a Failure once per attack.

AGENT MS

No Point: Ignores the least injured Student.

PADRE

Last Rites: Ignores the most injured Student.

MEATCHETE

Muscleman: Meatchete has a +1 Strength bonus.

END OF THE GAME

The game ends in one of two ways:

- All the Monsters belonging to any one player are dead. You've all lost!
- All the Surprise Visitors are dead. You've all won!

HECATOMB NOW

TRAILER

Sometimes the stars align, things go south, and you end up in the wrong place at the wrong time. But when the Necronomicon is part of the equation, then all this negative karma comes together like the pieces of a puzzle. Monsters attack each other, the corpses of students and visitors rise up, glyphs go off, and the forest becomes more oppressive than ever... All the horrors that you've ever faced – or created – crawl out of the shadows at once. Dear Monsters, that fateful day has finally come... The hecatomb is here!

This scenario uses some of the Special Rules from earlier scenarios. We recommend you play all the scenarios before attempting this one. In addition, games played with this scenario last longer than regular games.

SET-UP

- After removing all the Object cards that do not concern either the Monster families played and the Students' Character cards, shuffle the remaining cards together with the Necronomicon card. Divide these cards into 5 piles, then shuffle a Student card into each pile. Then place the 5 piles on top of each other to form 1 draw pile.
- Do not prepare a Nocturnal Event draw pile.
- Place 2 Forest markers  face down on each outdoor zone of the game board.
- Place 1 Glyph marker  in each room as indicated below:

- Put the indicated number of Flesh tokens  on each Monster card (you may use the triple Flesh tokens  worth 3 Flesh tokens that come with this scenario).

NEW SPECIAL RULES

LOSS OF THE LAST FLESH TOKEN

When a Monster loses the last Flesh token  on its card, all the other players move their Favorite Meal markers forward one hour on the game clock. The Monster continues to be played normally.

THE POWER OF THE NECRONOMICON

At the end of each round, the player who has the Necronomicon card must reveal it.

That player moves their Favorite Meal marker  forward one hour on the game clock, then returns the card to their hand.

EMPTY DRAW PILE

When the draw pile is empty, the player who has the Necronomicon places it in the discard pile. The discard pile is then shuffled to form a new draw pile.

MOVE FAVORITE MEAL MARKERS FORWARD

Certain situations trigger other effects: Most allow players to move their Favorite

Meal markers  forward one hour on the game clock.

The list of effects is given below.

A Monster attacks a Victim

The player takes as many Flesh tokens as wounds inflicted, as in the normal rules.

A player has
6 or more Flesh tokens

The player immediately returns 6 Flesh tokens to the reserve and moves their Favorite Meal marker forward one hour on the game clock.

A Victim dies

The player that dealt the Fatal Blow moves their Favorite Meal marker forward one hour on the game clock. They do not receive a Bone token if the Victim was a Student.

A Guest dies

The players who accurately predicted the right death order for the Guest do not take a Brain token. Instead, they move their Favorite Meal marker forward one hour on the game clock.

A Reanimated character dies

The player that killed them moves their Favorite Meal marker forward one hour on the game clock.

A player has
3 or more Forest markers

The player immediately discards 3 Forest markers and moves their Favorite Meal marker forward one hour on the game clock.

A player has 4 or more Doors

The player immediately discards 4 Doors and moves their Favorite Meal marker forward one hour on the game clock.

END OF THE GAME

As soon as a player's Favorite Meal marker reaches 8:00 a.m. on the game clock, the game ends. Finish the current round. The player whose marker reached 8:00 a.m. wins.

If several players' markers reached the 8:00 a.m. space during the round, the player who has the most Flesh tokens is declared the winner.

This player wins the game, learns the ultimate truth about monsters' lives, and obtains new cosmic powers.
