

TEA FOR 2

An illustration of Alice and the Queen of Hearts from the game 'Alice's Adventures in Wonderland'. Alice, on the left, has blonde hair with a black bow and wears a blue dress with black spots. The Queen, on the right, wears a crown and a black dress with red hearts. They are both holding a pink teacup with a floral pattern, and orange liquid is splashing out of it. The background is a green hedge maze under a blue sky with yellow stars. The title 'TEA FOR 2' is at the top in a red banner, and 'Game Rules' is at the bottom in a similar banner.

Game Rules

Goal of the Game

Be the player with the most stars at the end of the game.

Contents

- 50 Character cards
- 1 Pink Flamingo tile
- 5 (double-sided) Objective tiles
- 2 Player pawns (March Hare and Mad Hatter)
- 2 Teacup tokens
- 5 Hourglass tokens
- 9 Tart tokens
- 1 Score board
- 1 One-Hand Pocket Watch board

Setup

- 1 Players sit across from each other. The Score board is placed to the side.
- 2 The 2 Player pawns are placed on space 0 of the Score board.
- 3 The 5 Objective tiles are shuffled and placed randomly - faceup or facedown - on 5 spaces allocated for them on the Score board (we recommend the above setup for your first game).
- 4 Each player takes the 9 Character cards that match the color of their side of the board (blue or pink), shuffles them, and places them facedown in front of them to create their draw pile. A player's discard pile is immediately adjacent to their draw pile.
- 5 Place the 2 Teacup tokens on space 25.
- 6 The 25 Characters cards are sorted into 5 piles according to their value (4 to 8). Each pile of 5 cards of the same value is shuffled and placed faceup on the corresponding space of the Score board.

- 7 One player (the person who last drank tea, or decided randomly) takes 1 Tart and the Pink Flamingo. The other player takes 3 Tarts. A supply is created between the two players containing: the 5 remaining Tarts, the 5 Hourglasses, and the 7 faceup Rabbit Character cards (all are identical).
- 8 The Pocket Watch board is placed within reach of both players, its hand randomly pointing at one of its spaces.

Important: You can look at all the faceup piles at any time (without altering their order).

Anatomy of a Card

Game Round

Both players simultaneously reveal the top card of their draw pile and place it faceup on their discard pile. The player who revealed the higher valued Character card wins the round. In case of a tie, the player with the Pink Flamingo wins.

The winner performs one (and only one) of the following actions:

Apply the effect of their revealed Character.

Buy one (and only one)
card from the Score board.

Once they have performed their action, the winning player can spend any number of Hourglasses to move the Pocket Watch hand that many spaces clockwise. If the player spends at least 1 Hourglass, they apply the effect of the space on which the Pocket Watch hand finishes its movement.

Example : Matt spends 2 Hourglasses to move the Pocket Watch hand 2 spaces clockwise, and gains 2 stars.

Then, if your draw pile is empty, add a Rabbit card from the supply to your discard pile, flip over your discard pile, and shuffle it to create a new draw pile. Proceed to the next round.

When you gain stars through a Pocket Watch effect or card destruction, move your Player pawn forward on the Score board one space for each star you gained. If a Player exceeds 25 stars, they take a Teacup token (worth 25 points) and start over at space 0.

Buying a Card

If buying a card, the winning player is allotted purchase points equal to the difference between the players' revealed Character cards. The player then spends these purchase points to buy one card. The player can spend Tarts to buy a higher valued card (1 Tart = 1 extra purchase point). A player can also buy a card of lesser value, but no change is given for unspent purchase points.

The purchased card is taken from the top of the corresponding valued pile and placed in the player's discard pile.

Important: A player cannot buy a Rabbit card.

Example: The Pink player, who revealed "7", could buy an Executioner (4) or a Knave of Hearts (5) at no cost, but chooses to pay 1 Tart to buy a Caterpillar (6).

End of the Game

If 4 of the Score board's 5 Character piles are depleted, or if a player must take a Rabbit but there are none left, complete the current round, then tally your points: In addition to the stars already gained, each player scores additional stars for the Objectives above the Score board's depleted Character piles. The player with the most stars wins the game. In case of a tie, the player with the Pink Flamingo wins.

Effects of the Cards

CHESHIRE CAT (value 1): You can move the Pocket Watch's hand to any space and apply its effect (see page 8).

DORMOUSE (value 2): You can take 2 Tarts from the supply.

Taking Tarts or Hourglasses

When you must take Tarts or Hourglasses from the supply, but there aren't enough left, take as much as you can from the supply and steal the rest from your opponent.

GUARDS (value 3): You can force your opponent to reveal and discard the first 3 cards from their draw pile. The effects of these 3 cards are not applied.

Important: If your opponent's draw pile is depleted because of that effect, they must immediately shuffle their discard pile (without forgetting to add a Rabbit card) to make a new draw pile. Then, they continue the process until 3 cards have been revealed and discarded.

EXECUTIONER (value 4): You can destroy the top card of your opponent's draw pile. The Queen is immune to this effect: it is simply discarded.

Important: If your opponent's draw pile is depleted, they must immediately shuffle their discard pile (without forgetting to add a Rabbit card) to make a new draw pile. Then, you can destroy the top card of their draw pile.

Destroying a Card

When a player destroys a card, they place it next to their side of the Score board, and gain the stars depicted on the top right of the destroyed card.

KNAVE OF HEARTS (value 5): You can take 3 Tarts from the supply.

CATERPILLAR (value 6): You can take 2 Hourglasses from the supply.

KING (value 7): You can take the Pink Flamingo from your opponent or take 2 Tarts from the supply.

ALICE (value 8): You can take 1 Hourglass from the supply.

QUEEN (value 9) or RABBIT (value 1): You can destroy the top card of one of the Score board's Character piles.

CÉDRICK CHABOUSSIT: Mad about board games, and very critical (who said grumpy?), I've been a game designer for the past 10 years, and I am especially interested in mechanics that create dilemmas. When I saw two of my daughters playing the old classic, War, I remembered how much I enjoyed it, too. This delicious cake just needed a smidgen of deckbuilding before embarking on the SPACE Cowboys rocket. Many thanks to Benoît for giving the game both its theme and name. What could be better than gathering at the table to enjoy such a delicious treat?

AMANDINE DUGON: For as long as I can remember, I've been drawing. After learning Art and its history at university, I settled in Nantes where I discovered the world of shapes and colors and my calling as an illustrator. It's been almost ten years now since I packed my brushes and moved to London. This city full of colors and wacky people remains a source of daily inspiration for my work.

Effects of the Pocket Watch

Destroy a card
in your discard pile.
Important: You can look at your discard pile any time.

Reveal and discard the first
2 cards from your draw pile
and gain the stars depicted on those cards.

Gain 2 stars.

Apply the effect of the topmost
Character card of your opponent's
discard pile.

Take the Pink Flamingo.

Effects of the Objective Tiles

Award ? stars (where ? is equal to the value of the corresponding depleted pile) to the player who:

- has the most cards of the depicted type in their
deck (draw pile + discard pile).

- has the most cards in their deck (draw pile +
discard pile).

- Award ? stars (where ? is equal to the value of the corresponding depleted pile) to the player who destroyed the most cards.

- Gain 2 stars for each Hourglass
that you have.

- Gain 1 star for each Tart that you have.

For all tiles, ties are broken in favor of the player with the Pink Flamingo.

Reminder: Only the Objectives above depleted piles are scored at the end of the game.
